

The President's Thoughts

By Mickey Breunig, President

This has been a month of inhospitable weather. There have been very few days that would have been suitable for flying. If it hasn't been snowing, sleeting, or raining, the wind was very bad blowing the next system in for another assault. Any day I thought someone would have been out at the field to fly, I looked on the cameras and saw no-one. Maybe I looked at the wrong time of day on a so called decent day, but I have seen no-one flying in the past month. If you made it out this past month for a flight, let me say, YOU ARE HARDCORE. Now that we have gotten that bad weather out of the way, I look forward to some nice weather to enjoy the field this spring.

The next meeting is Saturday, February 12, 10:30am at Bud's Gun shop.

I hope to see you there.

Blast from the Past

By David J. Price

This series of articles will present advertisements from vintage modeling magazines. The intent is to illustrate technological advances that have taken place in our hobby. For some it will bring back memories, for newcomers it will present a piece of history of radio control model aviation.

Here is an advertisement from the February 1964 issue of Model Airplane News for the Orbit Proportional radio system. Orbit radios were very good, but not cheap. The complete system for $595.00 in 1964 would cost $5351.20 in 2021. I was surprised by the cost, so I ran it through other inflation calculators with similar results.

Latest in the Orbit line.

ORBIT PROPORTIONAL

The system features quadruple simultaneous proportional response from the powerful, hand-held, all-transistor transmitter. The transmitter operates from a 12 volt, built-in, nickel-cadmium supply of high capacity, and will be available in single-stick, or two-stick configuration. Control functions from either unit is rudder, aileron, elevator, throttle, elevator trim, and aileron trim. The receiver is a compact, rugged, light-weight unit featuring "twin-deck" construction principle for great strength with smallest possible physical dimensions. Super-heterodyne circuitry assures maximum interference rejection with high sensitivity. Pre-wired "pigtailed" from receiver to power source and servos, simplify installation, and eliminate tedious wiring. Servos have built-in amplifier and feed back circuitry for true "closed loop" operation. These units are based on a tried and proven mechanical configuration with more than adequate power for the largest airplanes. Their very light weight contributes to the nominal air-borne system weight of approximately 27 ounces, consisting of receiver, battery pack, and four servos.

Complete system price: Transmitter with battery pack and charger. Receiver with battery pack and charger. Four servos. $595.00

Everyone Welcome !!

Thank You to Buds Gun Shop!

I would like to give a huge THANK YOU to Buds Gun Shop and especially Dan Moley for the continuous hospitality each month during the winter season. Dan Moley several years ago volunteered Bud Gun Shop large meeting room located upstairs in their facility, this room is where they have their Concealed Carry Classes. The use of this room became very important during the COVID, because it allowed the club to hold our monthly meetings during the pandemic. Previous too the use of Buds Gun Shop upper room, the club meet at Lexington Public Libraries. When the pandemic hit the libraries closed to the public and didn't allow use of their facilities anymore. So, it forced us to look elsewhere. So, if your need ammo or anything that has to do with firearms, please visit Buds Gun Shop. They will be happy to take care of your firearm needs.

Thanks to Dan Moley and Buds Gun Shop and Range.
