

The President's Thoughts

By Mickey Breunig, President

With the weather we have been having in the past week you would think it was April. It may not be April, but spring is just around the corner, and it is about time to make sure we have everything ready for next year.

Whether it is making sure all of the maintenance is done on all of your airplanes or it is finishing up the winters project, it is about time to start finishing up to be ready for the flying season to come. It maybe you haven't gotten anything new yet for this season and if that is the case you might be interested in one of the big swap meets coming up.

The Perry Georgia swap meet is the biggest in the area and is about 8-hour drive. This swap meet is sold out almost every year and it gives you a break from the cold winter to get to the warm Georgia air. It takes most of the day to get thru the three massive halls of airplanes and you are almost guaranteed to find something you will want to bring home. If you have any interest in going, I am sure you could find someone else to share the ride.

Several of us are planning a trip to the Swap meet in Dayton toward the end of March. Combined with the swap meet, we plan on also visiting the National Museum for the US Air Force also in Dayton.

The swap meet is March 24, and 25. It ends rather early on Friday the 24th and rather than drive directly home after visiting the swap meet on Friday, we will go to the museum. The swap meet closes at 2pm on Friday.

Several of us will leave the swap meet early on Friday and go to the museum after lunch. Anyone is welcome to join us at the swap meet or the museum.

The Dayton Modelrama is a massive swap meet and is the largest in the area. It is approximately 4 times the size of our swap meet, it lasts 2 days, and has most everything you could want. If you haven't been and enjoy swap meets you should put it on your list of things to do.

The National Museum for the US Air Force is the best museum for military planes in the country. The museum has not only military planes but also NASA memorabilia also.

The museum is at least 4 massive hangers and can take more than a day to go thru it entirely. If you have any interest in airplanes at all, this is a trip into history that will amaze you.

Our next meeting will be Saturday, February 11th at 10:30am in the meeting room at Bud's Gun Shop.

Hope to see you there.

Blast from the Past

By David J. Price

This series of articles will present advertisements from vintage modeling magazines. The intent is to illustrate technological advances that have taken place in our hobby. For some it will bring back memories, for newcomers it will present a piece of history of radio control model aviation.

Here is an advertisement from the February 1955 issue of Model Airplane News for the Cessna 180 from Sterling Models. The Cessna was “Completely Prefabbed”, in other words, the kit had die-cut plywood and balsa parts. A lot of kits back then only had the parts ink-stamped on the wood and you had to cut out each part (no laser-cuts back then). The Cessna 180 was for Class ½ A and A engines. Class ½ A refers to methanol-fueled glow engines of .010 to .049 cu. in. displacements, whereas Class A refers to 0.051 - 0.1525 cu. in. displacements.

Actual photograph of model built from kit. Manufactured from plans supplied by the Cessna Aircraft Corp.

Kit FS-2
Length 30"
Span 45"
For Class ½ A and A engines.

This remarkably realistic model is designed for maximum performance with ½ A or A engine with full load of radio equipment and batteries! Ruggedly yet simply constructed—it's a cinch for even the novice in radio control! Kit includes all die-cut plywood and balsa parts, poplar wing struts and motor mount, plastic for windows, authentic decals, hardware, formed steel cowling, formed spring steel landing gear. Can be flown as free-flight, radio control or control line. EASY-TO-READ STEP-BY-STEP INSTRUCTIONS.
